PaperLab Engineer Profile

Name: Mr. Takashi Hama
Position: Senior Staff, Paperlab Business Project

Born on January 24, 1964, Mr. Hama was brought up in Nagano, Japan, and graduated from his local Okaya Technical High School. After joining Epson, he was assigned to the business systems business where he was responsible for system integrations for retail customers and then for formulating business strategies. He later worked as a product leader creating industrial inkjet printers. He began working on the PaperLab development project in 2015.

Mr. Hama enjoys climbing mountains. He is also interested in cars, motorbikes, and bicycles, all of which he enjoys riding on his days off.
(As of March 2017)